Hawaii Self Storage has announced it is launching another charity program as part of its Community Pride outreach initiative.

The Rent to Charity program, launched Tuesday, gives customers the option to donate their first month's rent to a nonprofit organization of their choice.

"As a locally owned company, we've made it our mission to help the community, and we support programs aimed at enhancing literacy, education and teamwork among Hawaii's youth," said Daniel Ho, Hawaii Self Storage President, in a press release. "This is our way of encouraging our customers to follow our lead and get involved, by donating their first month's rent."

Hawaii Self Storage has locations in Pearl City, Salt Lake and Kaimuki and plans to open two new facilities in Kapolei and Mililani by summer.

The company also participates in other charity work such as providing scholarships for graduating seniors and collecting books for Hawaii Literacy's Book Mobile, as well as several others.
